About the Village of Pleasantville

- Located just 31 miles from Grand Central Terminal in New York City, the Village of Pleasantville is home for over 7,000 residents. Its name is synonymous with extraordinary neighborliness, volunteerism, tranquility and tolerance, attributes that are embraced by all who live or work here.
- Settled in 1695 and formerly known as “Clark’s Corners,” the Village was once a stop along the Underground Railroad. Pleasantville became an autonomous local government in 1897. The original home of The Readers Digest, the Village is now a regional destination, well reputed for the quality of its public services, public schools, fine arts, dining and community experiences.
- Pleasantville is governed by an elected Board of Trustees, comprised of a Mayor and four Trustees, each elected to three-year terms. A Village Administrator is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Village.
- Our public school districts are among the most desirable in Westchester County. The main branch of the Mount Pleasant Library is centrally located in the Village.
- The acclaimed Jacob Burns Film Center, instructional dance studios, performing arts, music events and festivals and fine arts are woven into the community fabric.
- The Village is host to chic and unique retail shops, Zagat-rated restaurants and professional and personal-service establishments.
- Pleasantville is fortunate to be located in the center of Westchester County and is easily accessible by auto, bus or rail.

To learn more about the Village of Pleasantville, visit its website www.pleasantville-ny.gov.

Pleasantville Chamber of Commerce... linking community and commerce

The Chamber of Commerce is a hub where retail owners, professionals, entrepreneurs, business executives, community leaders and government officials come together to share expertise, creativity, solutions and resources. Members get more visibility for their business or organization, while getting involved with Pleasantville business people.

The Chamber's guiding philosophy is that a thriving business grows from engagement with the surrounding civic, cultural, educational and recreational community. To this end, the Chamber sponsors events and programs that link business members with the Pleasantville community. These activities include:

- Supporting a vibrant business community through Spring and Fall Sales Days, the Holiday Open House and other promotional events.
- Marketing opportunities, such as advertising and promotion; the Shop Dine Explore — Enjoy Pleasantville! brochure that lists members by business category and features a map of the Downtown and Old Village business areas with sites highlighted and information on the Village and the Chamber of Commerce; co-publishing the “Where Is It?” brochure and the annual PCTV holiday video featuring member interviews.
- Bringing to public attention the accomplishments of members through the Business Person of the Year Award, PCTV programming and the Chamber website.
- Providing information on local issues, such as ongoing Village streetscape projects, parking, zoning and other “business interest” issues.
- Maintaining active engagement with local Village government and community leaders.
